Standard Cage-Free Specifications

- Chickens are fed an all vegetarian diet, including flaxseed.
- Hens and eggs are free of pesticides and antibiotics.
- Hens must have at least 2 square feet per bird floor space in the henhouse, and outdoor access when seasonable appropriate. If access to pasture is not feasible, flocks must be fed sprouted grains or fresh plants or hay on a daily basis.
- Sauder's processing plants incorporate the latest egg-handling technology and cage-free certification procedures to maintain quality and food safety. Electronic candling systems help ensure that our eggs are clean & crack-free, and rapid processing on automated equipment helps preserve freshness. Eggs received in the morning are routinely washed, candled, sized, packed, and loaded onto delivery trucks that very same day.
